News Release

22nd April 2009

Avanquest Solutions – Stand L66

A completely new range of security packages for Infosec 2009

ENCRYPTX:

Avanquest Solutions brings the ENCRYPTX range of encryption solutions for removable devices (e-mail, files and folders, CDs and DVDs) to Infosec for the first time.

ENCRYPTX was founded in the US in 1999 by David Duncan, a former cryptologist with the U.S. National Security Agency (NSA). David worked for over 10 years with the NSA. During that time he designed and verified systems for government agencies, including the US Army, the US Air Force, NASA and the Federal Emergency Management Agency - identifying and developing solutions to protect PC and server data being shared electronically and on removable storage devices.

- ENCRYPTX customers include IBM, Boeing, Sony Corporation, KPMG, the US Department of Energy, the US Treasury Department, the Armed Forces Information Services, and numerous Department of Defense Organisations.
- ENCRYPTX work in partnership with many device manufacturers including SanDisk, Imation and Iomega.
- Over 20 million manufacturer's drives have been shipped with Encryptx software.

DeviceDefender *new

- Anytime, anyplace, anywhere encryption software for USB ports and all your removable devices (Flash Drives, Removable Hard Drives, CompactFlash, SD, MicroSD and Memory Sticks).
- The embedded McAfee AV component means DeviceDefender can uniquely initiate an Anti-Virus/Anti – malware scan of the device.
- Administrative server command centre option available.

SecurFlash, SecurDataStor and SecurWrap complete the encryptX portfolio.

Phil Velella, VP of Sales at encryptX will be presenting 'USB Device Management and Protection' in the New Product Theatre on Thursday 30th April at 11.45 am.

ControlGuard:

Avanquest is the master UK distributor for ControlGuard.

ControlGuard stops leaks! It is a centrally managed endpoint security software for the control and management of ALL endpoint devices (BlackBerrys, web cams, USB, cameras, Wi-Fi etc), which helps you to hold on to your information and have a say in when and where the information goes – if anywhere.

ControlGuard protects tens of thousands of users worldwide, including Financial Institutions, Government Security Agencies, International Insurance and the Military.

Kensington:

Avanquest has recently partnered with Kensington, the biggest name in physical security for notebooks, desktops and other office equipment.

Avanquest is recognised by organisations like the NHS as a supplier of the PC Guardian range of anti-theft solutions. Following a recent acquisition of the PC Guardian range by Kensington, Avanquest will now be supplying Kensington physical security products to its customers.

New for Infosec -

- ComboSaver® Master Coded Combination Notebook Lock & ComboGenie. No need to worry about forgetting combinations. The electronic "Master Key" creates a proprietary authentication process for secure combination recovery.
- The USB Port Locks and Blockers physically blocks USB ports from unauthorised access.
- The unique cable guard ensures necessary peripheral devices like printers and mouse can still be attached while blocking the USB ports from unauthorised use.
