Actify and ShapeSpace Announce Collaboration

Actify's Centro Solution to be Integrated with Leading CAD Search Technology

SAN FRANCISCO, CA. and Edinburgh, Scotland – September 6, 2011 – Actify Inc., a global leader in visual product knowledge solutions and ShapeSpace Ltd, developer of world-leading search technology for CAD, today announced their intent to collaborate in the development of a joint solution in the latter part of 2011 to bring 3D CAD search capability to Actify's latest 3D publishing and CAD data sharing platform, Centro.

David Chisholm Business Development Director of ShapeSpace said, "Given Actify operates in 45 countries and has a sound product portfolio with strong product development plans, there is clear synergy and complementary skills and resources, we each can share. Actify's Centro solution is a perfect platform for ShapeSpace's technology and we share in Actify's vision. This initiative also further enhances the partnerships already enjoyed by ShapeSpace Internationally."

"Actify is constantly looking for ways to help improve our solutions and answer our customers' needs," said Chris Jones, Actify President. "By partnering with ShapeSpace and making their robust CAD search technology available to our customers, we are fulfilling the needs of many of our customers and prospects."

ShapeSpace is distributed in the UK by business transformation provider, ProcessFlows. ProcessFlows specialise in the integration of independent business solutions which enhance an organisation's existing technology and line of business systems. Building on that investment provides further functionality and reduce costs, allowing you to do more with less and improve efficient throughout the entire enterprise.
